ABSTRACT

This catalog lists the resources of the ASEIMIC (Associate Special Education Instructional Materials Center) of the Nassau Educational Resources Center (NERC). ASEIMIC is part of a network which acquires, stores, and loans instructional materials for handicapped children; for the continuing education of professional personnel involved in the education and care of handicapped children and youth; and the study, development, and dissemination of curriculum materials for special education programs. The materials in this catalog are arranged by media. The books are further subdivided according to subject area and an author index is included. Curriculum guides and pamphlets are to be found under categories listed in this catalog. (JK)

INTRODUCTION

From its beginning as a modest ESEA Title III library, the Nassau Educational Resource Center (NERC), has now become a multimedia, multi-area curriculum and instructional materials center, with an educational communications training component. The merit and credit of NERC belong to the combination of Research and Development, Occupational Education, and Special Education Divisions of BOCES in terms of planning, space, and funds.

One strongly unique aspect of NERC is its designation as an Associate Special Education Instructional Materials Center (ASEIMC). It is one level of a national network, a state network and regional network for the acquisition, storage and loan of instructional materials for handicapped children; for the continuing education of professional personnel involved in the education and care of handicapped children and youth; and the study, development, and dissemination of curriculum materials for special education programs.

Under the direction of Dr. Henry V. Colella, Assistant Superintendent for Special Education, the Nassau BOCES' ASEIMC operation includes Nava Krieger, Librarian, William Fayette, and Mary Anne Nemeiksis; Rita Weinroth is the librarian for the Occupational Education collection. NERC itself is administered by Dr. Ann Fitzpatrick of the Research and Development staff, aided by Harriet Falb and Helen Kirsch.

This ASEIMC catalog is the first of a series, listed on the cover, that will be issued. All have been prepared under the supervision of Arlene B. Soifer, Staff Assistant, Research and Development Division.

HOW TO USE THE ASEIMC COLLECTION

The following pages contain listings of professional resources available at our Center in the area of the exceptional child. Most of the materials were obtained through a grant. Other materials available in the center are not included in this ASEIMC bibliography. All supervisors, teachers and other personnel involved with exceptional children in Nassau County may avail themselves of these resources. Audiovisual equipment is available and all materials may be previewed.

USING THE CATALOG

The materials are arranged by media; the books are further subdivided according to subject area and an author index is included. Curriculum guides and pamphlets are to be found under categories listed in this catalog.

LOAN PROCEDURE

Because of the numerous requests for materials, the loan period for all materials, print and non-print, is limited to two weeks. Three print items on any one topic may be borrowed at one time. Six sets of non-print items may be borrowed at one time.

HOURS

8:45 A.M. – 4:30 P.M., Monday through Friday, subject to change on a need basis.

For information call 997-8751 or 997-8754.
